About Catherine Wilson

Catherine (Cat) Wilson is a Ph.D. Candidate in Music Education at the University of Iowa, and an adjunct instructor at Tennessee Technological University. Formerly, she was a high-school vocal music director, elementary music specialist, organist, and pastoral musician. She recently won a fellowship for her research in songwriting, and she was recognized for exceptional research in music education. She was nominated for Hastings Public Schools Teacher of the Year in 2009, and was a Nebraska Elementary Principal's Award of Excellence recipient in 2006. She co-authored "Singin,' Sweatin' and Storytime," which is published through MENC and Rowman & Littlefield. In addition, Catherine has been an international, national and regional presenter. She holds a bachelor's degree in Music Education from the University of Louisville in Kentucky and a master's degree in Music from Colorado State University in Fort Collins. In her spare time, Catherine enjoys distance running, writing and composing. She lives in middle TN with her husband Joe and their 4 musical children.
